Message from our Principal Tony Bogle

It is definitely hard to believe . . . another new school year has just begun. It seems as though we just said goodbye a short time ago. To all our returning families, welcome back. For the new members of the Crown Valley community, welcome to our school! I think you will find it to be a place full of caring teachers and fantastic parents, but most importantly, astonishing children!

The beginning of a new school year is an amazing time; the classrooms are clean and shiny, the grounds have all grown back, the teachers are refreshed and the students are eager. Each new year is a fresh start, full of opportunities. This is a great time to make some goals for yourself and your family. Reflect on last year's accomplishments and build on those. Keep your goals meaningful, but simple.

Here is list of some simple goals your child may want to try for this year.

- Increase, or begin, daily reading by 10 minutes.
- Spend 5 minutes per day studying math facts.
- Organize backpack and/or notebook, and keep it organized.
- Set aside a specific time for homework.
- Start homework without whining (my particular favorite).
- Set out school clothes the night before.
- Make own lunch.
- Wake up 5 minutes earlier on school days.

Message from our PTA President Kim Schiedow

Welcome to the 2008-2009 school year! I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself. This year's PTA has already been hard at work planning many exciting and educational programs for our children at Crown Valley!

After nine years, Crown Valley has become a home to me and my family. The educational experience has been excellent, and the friends we have made along the way have been and will be valued for a lifetime. My husband, Todd, and I have been very involved at Crown Valley. We have truly enjoyed it, and have grown from our experiences. We have only one child left here at Crown Valley — our daughter, Chloe, will be starting second grade this year.

I would like to encourage everyone to become a part of the PTA. PTA membership at Crown Valley supports many wonderful programs for our children, such as Meet the Masters Art Program, field trips, educational assemblies, Red Ribbon Week, teacher appreciation and classroom enrichment, parent education, family nights, Science Fair, Legislation, Spirit Wear, Year Book, and much more

The PTA has committees to help facilitate the goals of the PTA, support in the fund-raising effort of the PTA, facilitate and support programs provided by the PTA, help communicate information between the school and parents, and support our teachers and staff with special treats and classroom enrichment materials.

We are always looking for people to help with these committees. No one person can do it all. We need as many people who can and want to give their time for the benefit of their children to help.

The PTA is a team of wonderful parents who want to make a difference at Crown Valley!

If you are interested in joining us on a committee, please attend a PTA meeting as listed above, or for more information at any time, please contact Kim Schiedow at kschiedow@cox.net.

My goals center on the children of our school. I want each child to get the most out of Crown Valley that he/she can. How can you help me achieve these goals? Stay informed, stay connected and stay involved. The school's website is updated frequently. You will find important information about Crown Valley Elementary, as well as district and community events; please check the website often. Additionally, I encourage your family to enroll in CUSD's listserv program. This email tool enables a quick and easy relay of information from the school or district. To sign up, just click the link from the CVES website. However, the single most important step to support your child's education is to join Crown Valley's PTA. This worthwhile organization has one purpose . . . your child's education.

Thank you for your continue support of our school, the teachers and your children. Have a great year!

Tony Bogle,
Principal

Message From Our PTA President, continued

Please take the time to become involved in your child's education and school experience by becoming a part of the PTA. More than 30 years of research shows that children do better when their parents and families are involved both at home and at school. Grades are higher; test scores rise; self-esteem grows; schools improve. Remember that members are the key!! You can make this difference for your child and your school. Please join us at our PTA Meetings the third Wednesday of each month at 1:00 p.m. in the school library (schedule on Page 2). Bring a friend and come see what the PTA is all about.

I look forward to working with our Principal, Tony Bogle, our staff, teachers and parents. Together, with you, we can make this a memorable year for our children!

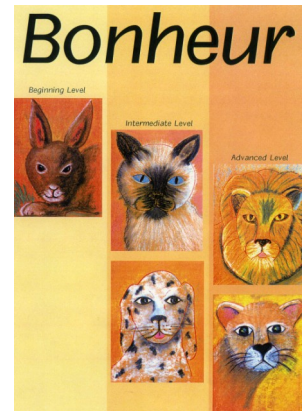

Kim Scheidow,
PTA President 2008-2009

Meet the Masters

The Meet the Masters art program is a wonderful art program that will be teaching our students about the history, biography and art media of several masters of art.

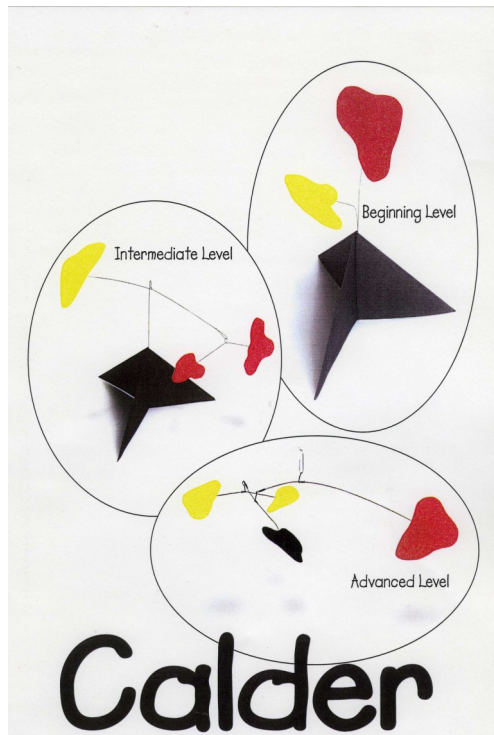

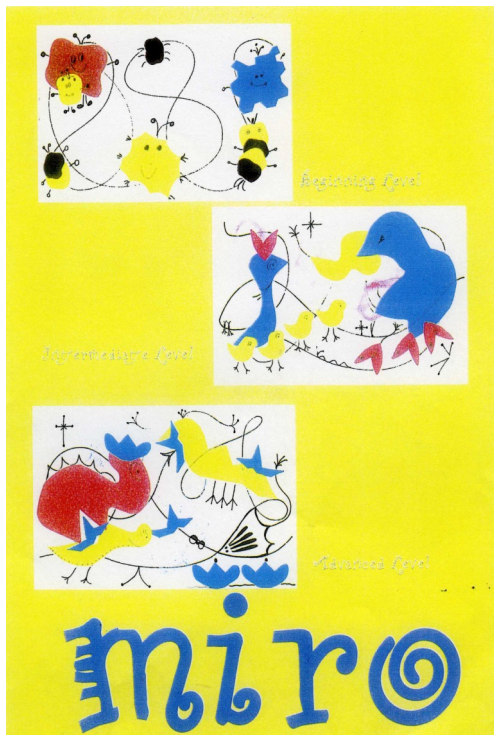

For each art master, students will attend an assembly. In their classrooms, students will create a piece of art based on a piece of art work from the art master being studied. The art masters students will study this year are:

- Joan Miro used a dreamlike surreal style.
- Alexander Calder created imaginative mobiles, stabiles and sculptures.
- Rembrandt van Rijn used a special technique of painting highlights and shadow.
- Jacob Lawrence used bright patterns and shapes portraying life in America through his eyes.
- Paul Gauguin used oil pastels in an abstract style.
- Rosa Bonheur loved animals and captured the essence of many species of animals.

The PTA is also planning an evening session of Meet the Masters for the family at which families can participate and create an art project together. Look for flyers to come home with the date of time of our Meet the Masters Family Night.

This program is fully funded by the PTA. If you would like to volunteer to help prepare materials for the student art classes, please contact Kim Schiedow at kschiedow@cox.net.

National PTA Back to School Resources

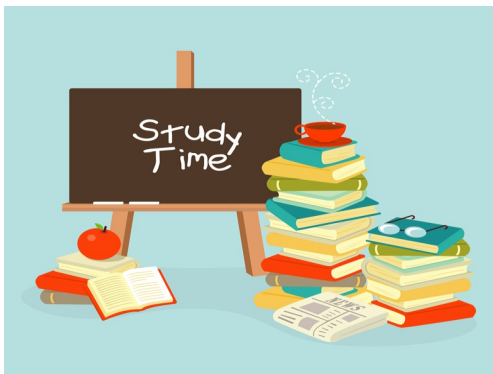

The National PTA has a website that is full of wonderful information for educators, parents and students! Below are two articles from the National PTA website regarding back to school. Homework Hints

By National PTA & National Education Association

Assume that your children will have studying to do every night.

- Ask your children if they understand their homework. If they do not, work a few examples together.
- Ask your children to show you their homework after the teacher returns it, to learn where they're having trouble and where they're doing well. See if your children did the work correctly.
- Stay in touch with your children's teachers. Ask about their classes and what they are studying. Ask their teachers how you can support what they are studying (flash cards, spelling, etc.).
- Remember, you and their teachers want the same thing — to help your children learn.
- Don't be afraid to get in touch with the teacher if you and your child don't understand an assignment or if your child is having a great deal of trouble. Almost all parents run into these problems, and teachers are glad to help.
- Don't do your children's work for them. Help them learn how to do it themselves.
- Show your children that you think homework is important. If you are at work during homework time, ask to see their work when you get home.
- Praise your children for doing well. Make praise a habit.
- Maintain a portfolio of "best pieces."
- Ask your school about tips or guides for helping your children develop good study habits.
- Help older students organize their assignments by recording them on calendars or planners, along with due dates, dates turned in, etc.

10 Ways for Parents to Help Teachers

By Mimi Doe

Many parents have written to me over the years, frustrated with how unprepared their students are — and they don't mean academically. Chris, a kindergarten teacher, wrote what many teachers have expressed, "I would love it if you could write a 10 tips for parents to help us teachers do our increasingly demanding job. Many parents of children I teach have left the job of spiritual, character, and social/emotional education to me. I can't do it all in addition to teaching academic skills. I'm getting burned out and pretty soon won't have the energy left to nourish one child let alone 25." So her goes — my 10 tips:

1. Create a smooth takeoff each day. Give your child a hug before she ventures out the door and you head to work. Look her in the eye, and tell her how proud you are of her. Your child's self-confidence and security will help her do well both in school and in life.
2. Prepare for a happy landing at the end of the day when you reconvene. Create a predictable ritual such as 10-20 minutes listening to your child talk about his day — before you check phone messages, read the mail, or begin dinner. That way you are fully present to listen, and your child has a touchstone he can count on between school and home.
3. Fill your child's lunchbox with healthy snacks and lunches. Have dinner at a reasonable hour and a healthy breakfast. A well-balanced diet maximizes your child's learning potential.
4. Include calm, peaceful times in your children's afternoons and evenings. Maintain a schedule that allows them to go to school rested, and if they are sick, have a system in place so they are able to stay home.
5. Remember it's your children's homework, not yours. Create a specific homework space that's clutter-free and quiet. Encourage editing and double-checking work, but allow your kids to make mistakes, as it's the only way teachers can gauge if they understand the material. It's also how children learn responsibility for the quality of their work.
6. Fill your child's life with a love for learning by showing him your own curiosity, respecting his questions, and encouraging his efforts.
7. Fill your home with books to read, books simply to look at, and books that provide answers to life's many questions. The public or school library is an excellent resource.
8. Be a partner with your child's teacher. When you need to speak to him or her in reference to a specific issue, do it privately. Make a point never to criticize your child's teacher in front of your child.
9. Set up a system where routine items are easily located, such as backpacks, shoes, and signed notices. Create a central calendar for upcoming events to avoid the unexpected.
10. Tuck "love notes" in your child's lunch bag to let him/her know how special he/she is.

SCHOOL FUNDRAISERS

There are many fundraisers throughout the year at Crown Valley that will benefit our students. Please take a moment to look these over and see if you can help in any way. Remember, the work of the PTA in raising funds for our school only benefits our students!

Gift Wrap—"Reach For The Stars"

This year's gift wrap sales vendor will be Great American Gift Wrap. The 2008 gift wrap fundraiser will start with a student assembly on September 15th. The packets will come home with students that day. Students are encouraged to sell items to their family and friends to support Crown Valley. Order forms are due back on October 1st.

Students can win prizes for selling items in the booklet! There will be 2 raffles, one on 9/23 and one on 9/25 for students who have sold a certain number of items. Each student that sells at least 20 items will get a toy hamster. The classroom that sells the most will get Mr. Bacon!

Box Tops for Education

Collect your BOX TOPS for education everyday, all year long! Each box top is worth 10 cents! With everyone collecting them, they add up fast!

Turn in your box tops to your teacher with your name, grade and teacher's name. The classroom with the most box tops will receive a popcicle party!

Cartridges For Kids

We are collecting used ink cartridges and old cell phones. Our school gets credit for recycling these items. Simply bring them to your teacher or the front office.

National PTA Reflections Program

This year's theme is:

"WOW"

This annual National PTA program offers students the opportunity to create works of art for fun and recognition. Participation and appreciation for the arts is the Reflections Program's goal. Each year, the Reflections Program challenges students to create original works of art that support a specific theme.

All Students are given the opportunity to participate by submitting entries to their local PTA. There are four categories:

- Photography
- Visual Arts (includes drawing, painting, print making and collage)
- Musical Composition
- Literature

There are four age divisions: Primary (pre-school-grade 2), Intermediate (grades 3-5), Middle (grades 6-8) and Senior (grades 9-12).

Students must use the theme in their entries. A school flyer will be going home soon with more details. Winners from each category will be recognized during a school assembly and their photo will be published in the school yearbook.

More information will come home soon. Start thinking about your entries today!

Additional information can be found at the National PTA website www.pta.org.

LEGISLATION UPDATE

Welcome to the new school year!

I am the 08-09 Legislation Representative for the Crown Valley Elementary PTA. As of the writing of this article, we are frustrated to report that there STILL is no State budget. Basically, the Democrats and the Republicans cannot agree on how to resolve this issue. The Republicans have pledged to not raise taxes, while the Democrats refuse to make further cuts to education, foster care, and aid to the poor aged and disabled. Capistrano's Legislative team is very proactive, and we had hoped there would be a budget by now. Due to this budget impasse, the following are currently not being funded:

- State universities (except payroll)
- Nursing homes, hospitals and other Medi-Cal providers
- Community colleges
- Cal Grants for students
- K-12 categorical programs, such as special education
- Service centers for the developmentally disabled
- Some mental health programs
- Vendors providing services and products to the state

(Source: State Controller's Office)

Furthermore, the most recent proposal by the Republicans would implement harmful cuts to education.

If this situation upsets you, we encourage you to contact your representatives. It only takes a few minutes to make a phone call!
